URGENT ACTION NEEDED!

Contact Your Legislator TODAY!

Tell them how budget cuts affect your work

Nevada's legislators need to hear how budget cuts would affect your work. You have been doing a fantastic job at contacting lawmakers to urge them to preserve the education budget but they also need to hear how the cuts would impact the work you do.

Telling them your personal stories would be very effective. We must show Nevadans how the proposed budget cuts would impact the services you, your fellow educators, and state workers provide to them.

Log on to our website, www.nsea-nv.org and paint the picture for them. Let them read first hand how the cuts would affect your day to day work. Together we can get our message across!

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

The full House is expected to debate and vote on the American Recovery and Reinvestment Bill tomorrow, Wednesday, Jan. 28. The bill continues to include significant investments in education, including increases for Title I, IDEA, and school modernization, as well as important provisions addressing health care, nutrition assistance, and unemployment insurance. Most significantly, the bill includes the NEA proposal to provide flexible funding for states through existing education funding formulas.

Passage of this package is far from assured-- collective action is critical to show strong support for the proposal.
